

Jacob Lee - I Still Know You

Tom: G
Intro: G C

G
The sparrows tend to fall asleep
The wind doesn't speak to me no more C
G
The water that becomes the sea
It holds me until I can't breathe at all C
G
I dream of things I've never seen
The sunlight doesn't wait for me now C
G
My demons, they walk with me
They tell me that I let you down C

G
You were just a heartbeat, yet to come alive
Just two feet, yet to stand upright
Was just three times we cried that night C
Am
'Cause it was four months until you arrived
G
And though I'll never be able to describe
How you were born with your mother's eyes
And how your hands felt when they met mine C
Am
And how Luke thinks we look alike

G
If I'm wed, I'd tell her she's beautiful C
And that I think she should smile more
You'd never know, but she misses you Am
More than anyone she's known

G
And though I'll never
Get to recognize your voice C
On the other line when you've grown Am
And made me proud to call you mine

G C
I still know you, I still know you

G
You were just a heartbeat, yet to come alive

Just two feet, yet to stand upright
Was just three times we cried that night C
Am
'Cause it was four months until you arrived
G
And though I'll never be able to describe
How you were born with your mother's eyes
And how your hands felt when they met mine C
Am
And how Luke thinks we look alike

G
I'll keep you safe inside my mind
As I try to say goodbye
C
There was more than one heart
That stopped that night
Am
If I'm honest

G
I'll keep you safe inside my mind
As I try to say goodbye
There was more than one heart
That stopped that night
If I'm honest

G
You were just a heartbeat, yet to come alive
Just two feet, yet to stand upright
Was just three times we cried that night C
Am
'Cause it was four months until you arrived
G
And though I'll never be able to describe
How you were born with your mother's eyes
And how your hands felt when they met mine C
Am
And how Luke thinks we look alike

G
I'll keep you safe inside my mind
As I try to say goodbye
There was more than one heart
That stopped that night
Am G
I'm so sorry
