

James Bay - Move Together

```
Tom: C
                                                            And I creep in... everything's loud
                                                              C Am G C Am G
                                                            I'm sorry... for waking you now

Intro: - Riff 1:
                                                            And we argue... the tiniest thing
                                                            We didn't get tonight, we don't have tomorrow

So I'm done whispering, done whispering.
Pré-Refrão - Riff 2:
                                                            How we gonna move together? Just come closer
                                                                  Am
                                                                              G
                                                            If we don't move together, just come closer

                                                                 How we gonna breathe? How we gonna be together?
                                                                 Am7 Dm7
                                                            Just keeping the peace between the sheets
Intro: 2x: C Am G
                                                            So maybe don't give me cold, cold shoulder
Home now... end of the night
                                                            Before you go turn around, let me hold you
   C Am G
It's colder... to turn on your side
     C Am G C Am G
                                                            Let me sit in the dark of the morning
And I know you're... up in two hours
                                                            F Am F (Riff 2)
                                                                 Yeah, it's more one thing now
We didn't get tonight, we don't have tomorrow
      C F Am F (Riff 2)
                                                                        \mathsf{Am}
So don't ruin now.
                                                            How we gonna move together? Just come closer
