Tom: G

```
   Intro:
G              Em            G
Golden, golden, golden river run
G              Em             G
To the East then drop beneath the sun
       G             Em         G
And as the moon lies low and overhead
   (D )    Em
We're lost

Em - D - G - D
Em - G - Em...

VERSO 1:
Em                    G
Burn slow, burning up the back wall
Em                       G
Long roads, where the city meets the sky
Em                    G
Most days, most days stay the sole same
Em                        G
Please stay, for this fear it will not die

REFRÃO:
            C             G
If I had a boat, I would sail to you
             D             Em
Hold you in my arms, ask you to be true
            C             G
Once I had a dream, it died long before
             D         Em      (Em )
Now I'm pointed north, hoping for the shore

VERSO 2:
Em                       G
Down low, down amongst the thorn rows
Em                            G
Weeds grow, through the lilies and the vine
Em                    G
Birds play, try to find their own way
Em                       G
Soft clay, on your feet and under mine

REFRÃO:
            C             G
If I had a boat, I would sail to you
             D             Em
Hold you in my arms, ask you to be true
```

```
                 C               G
Once I had a dream, it died long before
             D         Em      (Em )
Now I'm pointed north, hoping for the shore

BRIDGE:
                    C
Splitting at the seams
                    G
Heaving at the brace
                    D
Sheets all billowing
                       Em
The breaking of the day
                 C
Sea is not my friend
                 G
And everyone conspires
                 D
Still I choose to swim
              Em
Slip beneath the tide

             C
Once I had a dream
             G
Once I had a hope
             D
That was yesterday
             Em
Not so long ago
             C
This is not the end
             G
This is just the world
             D
Such a foolish thing
             Em
Such an honest girl

REFRÃO:
            C             G
If I had a boat, I would sail to you
             D             Em
Hold you in my arms, ask you to be true
            C             G
Once I had a dream, it died long before
             D         Em
Now I'm pointed north, hoping for the shore
