

Jamie Cullum - Drink

Tom: F

Truth, truth isn't something I learned
I feel like it's something you earn
Restless and hungry for future stories
Of days where we all live our lives in the graves
And the hymns of your heroes of phrase
Don't lose your memories prematurely
If it's true what they say about love and affection
I'll open my eyes to a door that is flowing with
Flowing with, flowing with

Drink, drinking in all of the sunshine
Reminding ourselves that there's no time
To wander around in the cold
Pain, pain is just part of your day
So suck it up, learn how to play
And down your first pint of the sunshine stories

It's true if it's all over now, baby blue
Did you listen when I told you to Live out your life in a blaze of glory

If it's true what they say about learning to love her
I'll open my eyes to a door that is flowing with
Flowing with, flowing with

Drink, drinking in all of the sunshine
Reminding ourselves that there's no time
To wander around in the cold
Cold water
The cold, cold water
The cold, cold water
The cold, cold water

Drink, drinking in all of the sunshine
Reminding ourselves that there's no time
To wander around in the cold, the cold
Pain, pain is just part of your day
So suck it up, learn how to play
And down your first pint of the sunshine, baby
The sunshine, baby
The sunshine, baby
The sunshine, baby
