

Jason Mraz - Hello, You Beautiful Thing

Tom: C

Intro: C AM7 F 2x

C AM7
Fall out of bed and catch a fading star
F
Fancy, I woke up before my alarm
C
Brought my mind through my eyes
AM7
It's the best I can do
F
Before it's automatic, hand it over, turn it to you
Though her smile when it happens
AM7
Almost as if it was magic
F
It means there's a God somewhere and he's laughing
C AM7
And I shuffle my slipperless toes to the kitchen
F x
Still low to the ground, but high on living
C AM7 F
And I know, I know it's gonna be a good day
C AM7 F
Hello, hello, you beautiful thing
C AM7
Waking up, I stretch my body and acknowledge some aches
F
It must be something I did yesterday
C
Pour a cup of liquid gold
AM7 F x
Because my engine's still cold
But in a minute everything's gonna change
C AM7 F
'Cause I know, I know it's gonna be a good day
C AM7 F
Hello, hello, you beautiful thing
C AM7 F

Hello, hello, you beautiful thing

C AM7 F
This is what I've been waiting for
(This is what I've been waiting for)
C AM7 F
This is what I've been waiting for
(This is what I've been waiting for)

[Passagem]

C AM7 F
Looking out from a cul de sac watching the band of the earth
Take the plaque of the night from the dirt

Of yes's and that ever changing sky
C AM7
But why do bad dreams linger long after I awake?

F
And I don't need no sins or violence or pain replayed

C AM7
And I feel quit foolish sometimes when I pray
F x

But my thoughts are all I've got
So I try to make them brave

C AM7 F
And I know, I know it's gonna be a good day

C AM7 F
Hello, hello, you beautiful thing

C AM7 F
