

Jay Foreman - Pretend You're Happy

Tom: Db

(forma dos acordes no tom de C)
Capostrate na 1ª casa

Bloody hell, bloody hell the world is awful
Well there's killing and starvation
And injustice and religion everywhere
Everything, everything is looking dreary
There's too many people in the world
And far too much pollution in the air
Everything I used to love has turned to shit
All the world's gone bankrupt now and it
Doesn't look like things will soon improve
I'm noticeably older than I was Definitely fatter just because
I no longer feel the need to move
Well, what do you do when the world
Around you makes you so depressed?
What do you do when you've lost
The motivation to get dressed?
Pretend that you are happy
And smile when you're feeling blue
If you pretend you're happy
You'll start to believe it's true
It's better to fake a smile
Than fill the world with woe
So just pretend you're happy
And nobody will know
(Dm Am F E)
Bloody hell, bloody hell the world is scary
Cos there's nothing but corruption

And destruction and reality TV
Every day, every day I slowly realise
Every single thing I used to know
And trust is run by people just like me!
One at a time I'm losing touch with my Former friends and lately it seems I
Never ring the contacts in my phone
Every time I breathe, it could be my last breath
And I'm getting closer to my death
For which I will probably be alone
Well, what do you do when you've Lost all the ambitions you once had
What do you do when the slightest
Inconvenience makes you sad?
Pretend that you are happy
And smile when you're feeling down
If your friends think you're happy
They'll still want you around
You'll realise it's important
To be glad with what you've got
So just pretend you're happy
And keep quiet if you're not!
Pretend that you are happy
And smile when you're feeling blue
If you pretend you're happy
You'll start to believe it's true
It's better to fake a smile
Than fill the world with woe
So just pretend you're happy
And nobody will know
