Tom: Bb
                                                                make love for you
   Cm Bb
                                                                 Fh
What you gonna do when you feel your lady rollin'
                                                                 at you
                                                                 Eb
How you gonna feel when you see your lady strollin'
                                                                 around you
On the deck of the starship
                                                                 i love you
With her head hooked into Andromeda
                                                                 Dear Brumus, the ship'll be ours and you got to roll with it
Cm Bb
C'mon Hiiack
                                                                 And tho' your master's head's blown off you got to go with it
Cm Bb
Gotta get back and ahead to the things that matter
                                                                 Roll with the natural flow
Amerika hates her crazies
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                 Like water off a spinning ball
Cm Bb
And you gotta let go you know
                                                                 Cm Bb

                                                                 Out - the one remaining way to go gotta let go you know
Cm Bb
                                                                 Free - the only way to fall
gotta let go you know
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                 The light in the night is the sun
gotta let go you know or else you stay
                                                                 And it can carry you around the planetary ground Spillin' out of the steel glass
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                 And the planetary whip of the sun gravity gone from the cage Will carry you well past Gideon
a million pounds gone from your heavy mass
                                                                 And the people you see will leave you be all the years gone from your age
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                 more than the ones you've known before Hydroponic gardens and skyscrapers
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                Hey - rollin' on Glistening with lakes in the Jupiter skyline
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                We come and go like a comet
Room for babies and Byzantine dancing astronauts of renown
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                We are wanderers
The magician and the pantechnicon
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                Are you anymore?
Cm Bb
Take along the farmer and the physician
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                 The land is green and you make it grow
We gotta get out and down
Back into the future
                                                                 Cm Bb
                                                                 You gotta let go you know
Cm Bb
Beyond our own time again
Reachin' for tomorrow
Cm Bb
                                                                 Or else you stay
It's so fine Starshine
                                                                 Cm Eb Bb
                                                                                  Bb Gm F mankind gone from the cage
the melting acid fever streakin' thru my mind
                            Gm
makes it ah so difficult to see you \mathsf{Gm}
                                                                 Cm Bb
and ah so easy to touch you
                                                                 At first I was iridescent
 Eb
i melt with you
                                                                 Then I became transparent
                                                                 Cm Bb
feel with you
                                                                 Finally I was absent
