

Jeremy Zag - Courage In Me

tom: A

Intro: Gbm

It's so dark

Not a star in the sky

With no sound to be heard

And reality blurred

Dreams are gone with a light

Fading out

Till the world's far behind

I can't do this alone

I can't find my way home

With this doubt in my mind

Gotta find the courage in me

To stand up and be

Braver than I have been before

Searching for the courage in me

So I can believe this what I am destined for

Is this my moment to rise

Leave the person I was behind

There are storms to calm

Can I face each one

Is it time

Is this my moment to rise

I have started to realize

Doubts have held me down

They are fading now
Is it my

Moment to rise

As I stand

With a new path to tread

The hope in my heart

Starts to shake at the thought of what my lie ahead

Should I fight

There's so much I don't know

Do I push through the fears

Till a new world appears

Though I might be alone

What goes with darkness

Is totally different in the light

And deep in my heart

I found a way to climb to new heights

I will go on regardless

Of anything standing in my way

Harness the power in need for those who need to be saved

I won't run, I won't hide

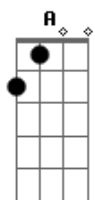

I will soar through sky tonight

I'm not going down without a fight

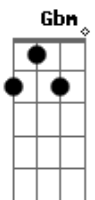

And now is the time

My moment to rise
