

Jerry Lee Lewis - It All Depends (Who Will Buy the Wine)

Tom: C

The kind of life you're living since you left me C
G7 I'm sure it's not the life you thought you chose C
 That honky tonky world is not so flashy F
G7 Bright lights and booze is all it really knows C
 Not long ago you held our babies bottle F

But the one you're holding now is a different kind C
 You just sit and wait to be somebody's baby F
G7 And it all depends on who will buy the wine C
 Who ever sets them up and tips the waitress F
 Your kind of love just might as well be blind C
G7 You'll never know whos lips you'll soon be kissing F
