

Jimmy Eat World - Middle Solo

Tom: D

I got this solo down in about 10 minutes, its really easy.

Listen to the timing for the song, sorry if it's hard to follow.
every note listed is played in the song, so just listen harder if you get confused.

For the pull-offs, you really have to pluck the strings as you're pulling off to get the same sound as Jim (pull off in a downwards motion, rather than directly outwards). You cant do a cheesy punk rock pull-off. It makes it harder to play it as fast as him, but you can get it down in practice.

Drop d tuning

not sure how many times he hits these notes. A bit fast to give a count you'll figure it out.

Then the final thing is simple

Thats it, not so difficult ones you get the hang of it i guess.

have fun. - Dan
