

John Entwistle - It's Hard To Write a Love Song

Tom: D

Intro: F G A F G A

D
I lie awake at night and try

F
Not to think about her

F
Try to live without her

F G D
It's hard, so hard

D
When you wake up and turn around

F
You realize she's not there

F
You tell yourself you don't care

F G D
But you do, she's part of you

Eb
Love is a pain that never ends

Eb
She becomes part of you

Eb
My whole body's aching, my heart is breaking

Eb
Since you left me, I've missed you

D
And all that rubbish

D
It's hard to find new ways to say

F
How much I love you

F
What I think of you

F
I love you, I need you, I want you, etcetera, etcetera

D
It's hard to write a love song

F
That has something new to say

F
Without using old cliches

F
I love you, I want you, I miss you, etcetera, etcetera

Eb
Love is a pain that never ends

Eb
She becomes part of you

Eb
My whole body's aching, my heart is breaking

Eb
Since you left me, I've missed you

D
And all that rubbish

[Solo] D F G
