                                                                   I saw her (b) fidget with her thumbs.
    John plays it fairly percussively,
                                                                   She said, "You like computers, John,
    with some palm muting and lots of slapping on you like computers, don't you?
                                                                       Yeah, I always see you with computers...
    the low notes to keep the beat.
                                                                      you like computers
                                                                   maybe you could do something with computers.
Part 1
                                                                      (b) Yeah, wouldn't that be nice?"
                                  (x2)
                                                                   Junior year,
                                                                       It's a little more intense,
                                                                       She says, "What do you want to do with your life?"
Part 2
                                                                      I'm not on the fence, I know exactly what I aim to be, (x1)a.
                                          h.
                                                                       (b)and I'm only 17.
                                                                   She said, "Well, all I ask, is that you pay attention in С.
                                                                       so if you happen to change your mind in time,
                                                                      you can still go somewhere reputable...
                                                                       (c)do us proud."
 He plays the first 4 chords and
                                                                   So I went downstairs, either a or b or c (they all sound good)
                                                                       (c)and I played guitar loud.

                                    (x1)
                                                            (x1)
                                                                      Same old question,
                                                                   She said, "What do you want to do?"
I said, "Play my guitar and sing."
She said, "There's no such thing."
Intro: Freshman year,
   Mom asks "What do you want to do when you get out of here?"
   I said, "Well, gee, I'm only 13, but I think I'd like to
                                                                      She said, "There's no such thing..."
play
my guitar...(a)be a star."
                                                                   (speaking: I love you Mom)
"Well," she said, "that's not it, you got time to go.
