Moving on and getting over
                                                                [Verse 3]
                                                                                             Dbm
                                                                Moving on and getting over
Are not the same, it seems to me
Cause you've been gone, I'm growing older
                                                                It's been so long; it just goes to show you
But I still can't seem to get you off my mind
                                                                That I still can't seem to get you off my mind
And I do believe I feel you all the time
                                                                And I sure would like to see you one more time, one more time, baby

Moving on and getting over

Are not the friends they used to be
                                                                It's taken me so long just to say "so long"
                В
It's been so long since I got to hold you
                                                                Maybe it's all wrong, but I'm moving on
But I still can't seem to get you off my mind
                                                                I'm gonna get a new girl, it's something I can do, girl
And I do believe I feel you all the time, all the time
                                                                To try to get me through, girl, cause I'm moving on
                                                                Dbm
Tell me I can have the fact you've loved me to hold onto I'm moving on
Tell me I can keep the door cracked open, to let light through And I'm moving on
                                                                Dbm
For all my running, I can understand
                                                                I'm moving on
                                                                В
I'm one text away from being back again
                                                                And I'm moving on

But I'm moving on and I'm getting over
                                                                Consider me as good as gone
I'm-a getting over, I'm getting over
                                                                Cause I'm moving on
