Thought we were invincible
Thought we'd never break
But thought I was incapable of causing you pain
Now I stare in the mirror every night
See a person I don't recognize
I'm the one that I'd promised
I'd never become all my life, all my life

Now I'm the villain in your story
An angel fell from glory
Was a hero in your eyes
Now I'm just the bad guy
I hate the way I left you haunted
Now these hands are stained and tarnished
Was a hero in your eyes
Now I'm just the bad, I'm just the bad guy

Stuck in your head
I'm always thinking three steps ahead
The feeling is sinking, no point in whispering
Just know that I'm listening (listening)
Pulling the strings, pushing the lights
These seven minutes are all of my time
With me, I'm a villain, I'm chasing the feelin'
I'm taking the throne, running the show
But when I'm alone

Now I'm the villain in your story
An angel fell from glory
Was a hero in your eyes
Now I'm just the bad guy
I hate the way I left you haunted
Now these hands are stained and tarnished
Was a hero in your eyes
Now I'm just the bad, I'm just the bad guy
