

John Michael Howell - Good At Writing Love Songs

No, I can't write my way into your heart
                tom:
                                                                   Into your heart, into your heart
                Gb (forma dos acordes no tom de E )
Capostraste na 2ª casa
                                                                   [Segunda Parte]
Intro: G7M
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                   All these lines, you'd think I'd learn from what I write
                                   Gbm
                                                                                        Fm7
                                                                   But when I'm in the real thing
I could write a story, make your heart ignite
                   Em
But when it comes around to mine
                                                                   I never practice what I preach
Can't get a single spark to fly
                                                                   [Pré-Refrão]
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                   All these notes and melodies left me alone
All these notes and melodies left me alone
                                                                   [Refrão]
                                                                   I'm no good at love
[Refrão]
                                                                   Just good at writing love songs
I'm no good at love
                                                                   I'm helpless at winning your heart
Just good at writing love songs
                                                                                      G7M
                                                                   If it ain't pen and paper, all I see is danger
I'm helpless at winning your heart
                                                                   Can't help it, I'm lost in the art
                   G7M
If it ain't pen and paper, all I see is danger
                                                                   Ooh, wanna give you everything, everything
Can't help it, I'm lost in the art
                                                                                            Gbm
                                                                   But all I have's a melody, a melody
                    G7M
Ooh, wanna give you everything, everything
                                                                                  G7M
                                                                   I'm no good at love
                        Gbm
But all I have's a melody, a melody
              G7M
                                                                   Just good at writing love songs (Hm-mm-mm)
I'm no good at love
                                                                   [Post-Refrão]
Just good at writing love songs (Hm-mm-mm)
                                                                   But I can't write my way into your heart
[Post-Refrão]
                                                                   Into your heart, into your heart
But I can't write my way into your heart
                                                                   No, I can't write my way into your heart
