

John Moreland - Cleveland County Blues

tom:

C

My baby is a tornado C7
 In the endless Oklahoma sky F G C F C
 Spinning devastation C7
 And singing me a lullaby F G C F C
 And you're wrecking all the rooftops Am F
 When April turns to May F C
 It wouldn't make a difference Am Dm
 If I could or couldn't stay Dm Dm F
 I fall back into love C C7
 And look up and then you're gone Am F
 But I still feel you storming in my bones F G C

C C7
 When I touch the hands of time
 They won't mind what and where I've been F G C F C
 Woke up in Cleveland County C C7

F G C F C
 And you're picking up my pulse again
 And we'll be tearing through your sheets Am F
 Or through the streets of this old town Dm C
 Looking for the answers Am Dm
 To these doubts we drag around Dm Dm F
 And babe I never learned C G
 You'll say the word and then I'll break Am F
 But I'll still feel your old familiar ache F G C

[Refrão]

Am F
 So we're covered up in fiction
 Chasing something true Dm C
 But darling damn the luck Am Dm
 And damn the consequences too Dm Dm F
 I could bury all the memories C G
 I could patch up all the holes Am F
 But I'd still feel your fingers on my soul F G C
