

Johnny Cash - God Bless Robert E. Lee

Tom: A

A A D
Well the mansion where the General used to live is burning down

E
Cottonfields are blue, with Sherman's troops
A D A
I overheard a Yankee say yesterday Nashville fell

A
So I'm on my way, to join the fight General Lee might need my help.

D
But look away, look away Dixie, I don't want them to see
A E

What they're doing to my Dixie, God Bless Robert E. Lee.

Riff:

A D
Sherman's troops, burned Atlanta, and the flames lit up the sky

E A
And those of us who survived it, are watchin' my Dixie die.

D A
But today, at Appamattox, General Lee sat down

E A
And surrendered to the Yankees and Ulysses S. Grant.

D
So look away look away Dixie, I don't want them to see
A E

What they're doing to my Dixie, God Bless Robert E. Lee.

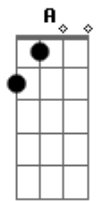

Riff:

A D
A
I won't ever stop loving you my Dixie, till they put me in the ground

A
And the last words they probably hear from me are God Bless
Robert E. Lee

Riff: (Slowly, let ring)
