

Johnny Cash - Nasty Dan

Tom: D

G D

Nasty Dan was the meanest man I ever knew, he'd stomp and scream and be real mean the whole day through, he'd frown a bunch, he ate nails for lunch and he'd never laugh,

D A

G

A D

he'd growl and yell and I heard tell that he never took a bath.

G D

Nasty Dan was a nasty man, hard to understand that Nasty Dan.

D

Now, Nasty Dan was a nasty man the whole day long, he'd go where he could and he'd try real good to make things go wrong.

A

G

He'd jump for joy when a little boy would trip and fall, and the only words that he ever said were, ?I don't like you at all.?

A D

A G D

Nasty Dan was a nasty man, hard to understand that Nasty Dan.

Now a real interesting thing that I want you to know about is this here because it's the most important thing it concerns a girl and things like that.

D

Now, Nasty Pearl was a nasty girl that met Dan somehow, she said you like me rotten as can be, let's get married now.

A

G

So they went and they did and had a nasty kid and I must confess,

that Dan

pretty much leaves everyone alone now , and he doesn't bother anybody anymore 'cause he just lives in his nasty ol' house with his nasty ol' wife and his nasty ol' kid in nasty happiness.

A7 D

G D

A D

Nasty Dan he?s a nasty man, hard to understand that Nasty Dan.
