

Joji - Normal People (feat. Rei Brown)

tom:
Capo: Bb (forma dos acordes no tom de A)
Intro: D A

The devil came back

He's dancing in your path

So you're acting like you need me now, hey

So tell me if I'm mad

There's something in your laugh

That makes me fear the way you smile, hey

It's hard to believe sometimes

We can pretend we're normal people

And I can repeat those times

We can pretend we're boring people

And it's hard to believe sometimes

We can pretend we're normal people

And I can repeat those times

And I can repeat those times, yeah

New planet, yeah, we planted

Everything we wanted

Your fragrance, covalence

I'm bound to, I'm bound to you

But the longer that we hide

Everything starts to hit me harder, hit me harder

But we're safe on the inside

Yeah, I know we're fine

The devil came back

He's dancing in your path

So you're acting like you need me now, hey

So tell me if I'm mad

There's something in your laugh

That makes me fear the way you smile, hey

It's hard to believe sometimes

We can pretend we're normal people

And I can repeat those times

We can pretend we're boring people

And it's hard to believe sometimes

We can pretend we're normal people

And I can repeat those times (those times)

And I can repeat those times, yeah (those times)
