

Joshua Bassett - Dancing With Tears In My Eyes

```
Seein' you tonight, I'm right back where we met (ah)
                tom:
          Fb
                                                                 I lied when I said I'm fine
(I lied when I said I'm fine)
                                                                 At the disco dancin' with tears in my eyes
     В
(At the disco dancin' with tears in my eyes)
                                                                                     Db
                                                                  Eb
                                                                 I cry every time our song comes on
                              Gb
                                               R
                                                                                      Db
                                                                                                            R
Dancin' with a cigarette, drunk on a Sunday morning
                                                                 It breaks my heart, dance in the dark so you don't see me fall
                           Gb
Standin' on the edge is something we'll regret 0oh
                      Gb
Makin' a mess of the bed we made
                                                                  R#
                                                                 I lied when I said I'm fine
Playin' with fire we already tamed
                                                                 At the disco dancin', dancin' with tears in my eyes
              Gb
Romeo and Juliet, we should've known better
                                                                 Eb Fm B Db Fm
                                                                 Eyes, eyes
I caught your eyes under the lights
                                                                  В
             В
                                                                 Dancin' with tears in my eyes
And now I'm spinnin'
                                                                 Eb Fm Db Fm B
                                                                 Eyes, eyes
I lied when I said I'm fine
                                                                  Fb
                                                                             Dh
At the disco dancin' with tears in my eyes
                                                                 Dancin' with tears in \ensuremath{\text{my}}\xspace eyes
                  Db
                                                                              Db
I cry every time our song comes on Dancin' with tears in my eyes, oh, ooh
                     Db
It breaks my heart, dance in the dark so you don't see me fall I lied when I said I'm fine apart
                                                                 At the disco dancin' with tears in my eyes
                                                                                     Db
 Eb
                                                                 I cry every time our song comes on (our song comes on)
I lied when I said I'm fine \ensuremath{\text{I}}
                                                                                       Db
                                                                 It breaks my heart, dance in the dark so you don't see me fall
At the disco dancin', dancin' with tears in my eyes
Eb Fm Db Fm B
                                                                 0oh
                                                                  Fh
Eyes, eyes
                                                                 I lied when I said I'm fine
Dancin' with tears in my eyes
Eb Fm Db Fm B
                                                                 At the disco dancin', dancin' with tears in my eyes
Eyes, eyes
                                                                 Eb Fm Db Fm
                                                                 Eyes, eyes
Everybody's askin' if I'm happy for ya (dum, dum-dum, dum)
                                                                 Dancin' with tears in my eyes
                   Gb
                                                                 Eb Fm Db Fm B
Nothin' to regret, we went our separate ways (dum, dum-dum,
                                                                 Eyes, eyes
It's eatin' me alive to see you doing better, maybe my wine
                                                                 (Eyes, eyes)
will help me forget you
Acordes
                                       ukulele-chords.com
                                                                                 ukulele-chords.com
```