

Juke Ross - Fresh Roses

Tom: G

Darling, I've been trying to hold you down
 Though the fear within my heart still lingers round
 Darling I am hoping to see your face
 Every Sunday morning my embrace

And though the fear within my heart still drives me over the edge
 It is you that I want to hold me in bed
 And should the sun shine tomorrow I'll be holding my head
 Cause I'll be hoping for raindrops instead

Fresh roses in my garden need the rain
 I've been hoping for clouds, but the sun remains
 Fresh roses in my garden need the rain
 Heaven sent me your love, but it keeps me chained

Darling I was searching for the light within
 When you came on in placed my world in a spin
 I was aching when you came around

Funny how things work, how my world was upside down

And though the fear within my heart still drives me over the edge
 It is you that I want to hold me in bed
 And should the sun shine tomorrow I'll be holding my head
 Cause I'll be hoping for raindrops instead

Fresh roses in my garden need the rain
 I've been hoping for clouds, but the stars remains
 Fresh roses in my garden need the rain
 Heaven sent me your love, but it keeps me chained

I'll bide my time and i will wait
 Patiently for the day
 When the cloud are dark and the skies are red
 To feel your love over me

Fresh roses in my garden need the rain
 I've been hoping for clouds, but the sun remains
 Fresh roses in my garden need the rain
 Heaven sent me your love, but it keeps me chained
