JVKE - Wonder If She Loves Me
                    tom:
                               Am
               Am
 (She loves me
G        C
 She loves me not

She loves me
         G
She loves me not
               Dm7
Oh, why do I overthink everything?)
Am                      G        C
 Wonder if she loves me, loves me not
                           G
Overthinking us till after dark
                           Dm7
Baby, go ahead and break my heart
                     F
And watch me fall apart
Am                      G        C
 Wonder if she loves me, loves me not
                           G
Petals on a rose, our time is up
                           Dm7
Honestly, I hope it breaks your heart
                 F
To watch me fall apart
         F                    Am
I've been stuck in my house for a week
                                G
Tryna be strong, but these feelings got me weak
                                        Dm
I thought I had it in me not to check up on your profile

But then I scrolled down
                 F
That's when I saw that new boy all up in your comments
                               Am
Knew y'all were talking, I felt it in my stomach
                       G              F
I guess I did it to myself, I'm so destructive
       Dm
My habits toxic, now I
Am                      G        C
 Wonder if she loves me, loves me not
                           G
Overthinking us till after dark
                           Dm7
Baby, go ahead and break my heart

                               F
And watch me fall apart
Am                      G        C
 Wonder if she loves me, loves me not
                                 G
Petals on a rose, our time is up
                                 Dm7
Honestly, I hope it breaks your heart
                       F
To watch me fall apart
Am                      G        C
 Does she love me? Does she love me not?
C                      Am            G
 Does she love me? Does she love me not?
G                          Am             Dm
 Does she love me? Does she love me not?
                               F
Oh, now watch me fall apart
Am                      G        C
 Does she love me? Does she love me not?
                     Am           G                    Dm
I'm in my head, I'm overthinking everything we got
                    F                 Am
I'm getting cynical with every thought
                                                        Dm
Like, was it ever really real or were your fingers crossed?
Am                      G        C
Now I wonder if she loves me, loves me not
                                 G
Petals on a rose, our time is up
                                 Dm7
Honestly, I hope it breaks your heart
                       F
To watch me fall apart
Am                      G        C
 Wonder if she loves me, loves me not (yeah)
                                 G
Overthinking us till after dark
                                 Dm7
Baby, go ahead and break my heart
                       F
And watch me fall apart
Am                      G        C
 Wonder if she loves me, loves me not
                                 G
Petals on a rose, our time is up
                                 Dm7
Honestly, I hope it breaks your heart
                       F
To watch me fall apart
