

Kailasa Blues - I've Been Crying a River

tom:

I've been crying a river
 And all of them alone
 I've been crying a river
 Waiting your call on the phone
 I've been crying day and night
 Lost in pictures so bright
 I've been crying a river
 Searching the way to heal
 Your love was my anchor

Now that's pain that I feel
 The echoes of your laughter
 Haunts me every day every night
 I've been crying a river
 To a love that slipped away
 I've been crying a river
 In this freaking endless way
 Promises made were broken
 I've been crying a river
 Of tears
