Keane - Tear Up This Town

```
Verso 1:
   I wanna hand you my heart and let you carry the load
  Nobody tells you anything you need to know
   I need a friend but a friend is so hard to find
   I need an answer but I'm always one step behind
Bridge:
   Cause it takes time
   Learning to fly
  Do you ever feel like all you want is to go home
   To kiss the earth, to weave a way through this storm
   Some days I rage like a fire in the wilderness
                      Em
Some days I only need the darkness and a place to rest
Bridge:
   Oh it takes time
(It takes time)
   Learning to fly
   Tear up this town
```

Acordes

```
Blinking in the sunlight as the walls come down
This fire will burn
Digging for a truth that just can't be found
Don't want your lessons in love
I want to tear it all up
Bridge:
   I need a friend but a friend is so hard to find
                               D C
   I need an answer but I'm always one step behind
  Oh it takes time
(It takes time)
  Yes, it takes time
(It takes time)
  Learning to fly
Refrão:
  Tear up this town
Blinking in the sunlight as the walls come down
This fire will burn
Digging for a truth that just can't be found
Don't want your lessons in love
I want to tear it all up
