

Kodaline - Shed a Tear

```
You don't have to fight alone
Intro: G C Am Em D
                                                               [Refrão]
It's harder to see through the eyes of a stranger
                                                               I'll shed a tear for you
It's easier to love when the world doesn't hate you
                                                                         C
                                                               Open your eyes, I'm by your side
                            Αm
When you try to sing out but nobody hears a word
                                                               I'm never leaving you
It's safer to swim when the tide's not against you
                                                               Darkness to light, stay through the night
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                    D G
                                                                               Am
                                                               I'm walking in your shoes
Yeah-yeah (You've been here before)
                                                               So you know that it's the truth
                                                                            G
I know you've been here before
                                                               When nobody's here for you
(Never letting go)
                                                               Let me make it clear
And giving up is letting go
(Never fight alone)
                                                               That I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear
But you don't have to fight alone
                                                               (Shed a tear, shed a tear, shed a tear)
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear (shed a tear)
[Refrão]
                                                                                        G
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear (shed a tear)
           Am
I'll shed a tear for you
                                                               (Shed a tear, shed a tear, shed a tear)
Open your eyes, I'm by your side
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear (shed a tear, whoah-oh)
                 Αm
I'm never leaving you
                                                               [Ponte]
Darkness to light, stay through the night
                                                                And when you're livin' in your darkest hour (whoah)
    D G Am
I'm walking in your shoes
                                                                And when you're gettin' closer to the edge
So you know that it's the truth
                                                               [Refrão]
When nobody's here for you
                                                                           G
Let me make it clear
                                                               I'll shed a tear for you
That I shed a, I shed a tear
                                                               Open your eyes, I'm by your side
                    Am
                                                               I'm never leavin' you
(Shed a tear, shed a tear, shed a tear)
0oh-hoo
                                                               Darkness to light, stay through the night
                                                               D G Am
I'm walkin' in your shoes
(Shed a tear, shed a tear)
                               Am
And I'll feel your pain when I know you're in trouble
                                                               So you know that it's the truth
And I'll take the blame from your hurt and your struggle
                                                               When nobody's here for you
                                 Am
And when you try to speak out but nobody hears a word
                                                               Let me make it clear
I'll be your voice, lay your head on my shoulder
                                                               [Final]
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear
                                                               (Shed a tear, shed a tear, shed a tear)
Oh (You've been here before)
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear (shed a tear)
I know you've been here before
(Never letting go)
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear (shed a tear)
                                                               (Shed a tear, shed a tear, shed a tear)
And nothing is impossible
(Never fight alone)
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll shed a tear (shed a tear)
                                                               I'll shed a, I'll hed a tear (shed a tear)
