Lana Del Rey - God Knows I Tried

```
Tom: Ab
                                                                          Fm
                                                                                                     Eb
                                                              Put on that hotel California, wear my blinders in the rain,
Intro: Fm
          Db
               Bbm
                      C7
                                                                      Db
                                                                                     Bbm
                                                                                                    C7
                                                              I've got nothing much to live for ever since I found my fame.
Verse:
            Fm
Sometimes I wake up in the morning
                                                              Chorus:
                                                                                            Ab
         Db
                                                                          Fm
                                                              God knows I live, God knows I died.
to red, blue and yellow skies,
                                      Dh
         Fm
                                                                          Eb
                                                                                           Fm
                                                                                                C7
It's so crazy I could drink it like tequila sunrise.
                                                              God knows I loved, God know I lied.
                                    Eb
                                                                           Fm
            Fm
Put on that Hotel California, dance around like I'm insane,
                                                              God know's I begged, begged, borrowed and cried.
        Db
                    Bbm
                                   C7
                                                                          Eb
                                                                                           Fm
I feel free when I see no one and nobody knows my name.
                                                              God knows I lost, God gave me life.
                                                                             C7
                                                                                                 Fm
                                                              And God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
Chorus:
            Fm
                              Ab
                                                                          C7
                                                                                             Fm
                                                              God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
God knows I live, God knows I died.
            Eb
                                          Fm
                                               C7
God knows I begged, begged, borrowed and cried.
                                                              Bridge:
                                                                             Db
            Fm
                              Ab
                                                               Eb
                                                                                                  Ab
God knows I loved, God know I lied.
                                                              So let there be light, let there be light.
            Eb
                              Fm
                                                                         Bbm
                                                                                         Fm
God knows I lost, God gave me life.
                                                              Light up my life, light up my life.
                C7
                                                                           Db
                                    Fm
                                                              Eb
                                                                                              Ab
And God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
                                                              Let there be light, let there be light.
             C7
                                                                          Bbm
                               Fm
                                                                                           Fm
God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
                                                              Light up my life, light up my life.
Verse 2:
                                                              Outro:
            Fm
                                                                           C7
                                                                                               Fm
Sometimes I wake up in the morning
                                                              God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
        Db
                                                                           C7
                                                                                              Fm
to red, blue and yellow lights,
                                                              God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
   Fm
                                                              Eb
                                                                           Db
                                                                                      Ab
on Monday they destroyed me
                                                              God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
        Db
                                                                           Bbm
                                                                                             Fm
but by Friday I'm revived.
                                                              God knows I tried, God knows I tried.
```

Acordes

