

tom:

Laufey - California And Me (feat. Philharmonia Orchestra)

For your old flame

Holding back my tears

E7M

```
F7M
                                                                                  Gbm7
Should've figured
                                                                 I couldnt make you stay
That you'd back to New York
                                                                 Can't quit this, so damn
                                                                 G<sub>b</sub>7
Don't consider me
                                                                 Wicked
                                                                 Gbm7
                                                                            B7
When you run back to her
                                                                 To leave california and me
                                                                  ( E7M E7M Gbm7 B7 )
You don't have to hide it
I know why you went
                                                                 I imagine you holding her in your arms
                                                                 Laughing 'bout how I thought that you were the one
Said you needed space
              Gb7
                                                                 I get so anxious and maybe I'm young
I know better than that
Gbm7 Abm7 A7M Am
Hm, hm, hm, hm
                                                                 The first sign of trouble
F7M
                                                                           Gb7
Could've fought for you
                                                                 And I bite my tongue
                                                                 Gbm7 Abm7 A7M Am
But I just let you leave
                                                                 Hm, hm, hm, hm
                                                                 F7M
Hurt too much to consider
                                                                 Left me and the ocean
                                                                                 Gbm7
You didn't love me
                                                                  For your old flame
                                                                 F7M
        A7M
                                                                 Holding back my tears
The moutains of LA
                                                                                  Gbm7
                                                                 I couldnt make you stay
      \mathsf{Am}
                                                                                     Dbm7
Will meep through the night
                                                                 Can't quit this, so damn
Driving down sunset's
                                                                 G<sub>b</sub>7
   Gb7
                                                                 Wicked
A terrible night
                                                                  Gbm7
                                                                            B7
Gbm7 Abm7 A7M Am
                                                                 To leave california and me
Hm, hm, hm, hm
                                                                  ( E7M Gbm7 B7 )
Left me and the ocean
               Gbm7
```

Acordes

