

Lauren Spencer-Smith - Bigger Person

tom:
 (Ooh-ooh-ooh)
 (Ooh-ooh-ooh)
 When you'd yell I would stay silent
 You never noticed I was quiet
 I was taught that speaking up was talking back
 Always first to say: I'm sorry
 'Cause I wanted you to like me
 And I thought that's what it took to make it last
 It's a lose-lose
 That I don't choose
 But you don't always choose the ones you love
 I shouldn't have to be the bigger person
 How come I have to break to keep us working?
 It's always up to me even though it shouldn't be
 I'll take the blame the way you want me to
 'Cause that's what I'd do for you
 (Ooh-ooh-ooh)
 (Ooh-ooh-ooh)
 I was half of this dynamic
 I was stable, you were manic
 Without you or with you, comes with a cost

I got used to the excuses
 And emotional abuses
 We kept moving the lines we'd never cross
 It's a lose-lose
 That I don't choose
 But you don't always choose the ones you love
 I shouldn't have to be the bigger person
 How come I have to break to keep us working?
 It's always up to me even though it shouldn't be
 I'll take the blame the way you want me to
 'Cause that's what I'd do for you
 I always think it's over, but it never really is
 'Cause I can't get the closure when you're like this
 Can we switch
 Maybe this time you'll be the bigger person
 'Cause I'm getting tired of bearing all your burden
 It should be up to you, but you won't admit the truth
 Ooh-ooh
 I shouldn't have to be the bigger person
 How come I have to break to keep us working?
 It's always up to me even though it shouldn't be
 I'll take the blame the way you want me to
 'Cause that's what I'd do for you
