

LAUV - Breathe

Tom: E

I've watched those eyes light up with a smile
 River in the not good times
 Oh, you taught me all that I know

I've seen your soul grow just like a rose
 Made it through all of those thorns
 Grow into the woman I know

And it's killing me, me to say "I'm fine," "I'm fine"
 When I really mean, mean to say

You're my all and more
 All I know you taught me, yeah
 You're my all and more
 But I need room to breathe, yeah

I found New York laying in your arms
 We'll melt into the bedroom floor
 Never knew I'd stay for so long
 I found New York laying in your arms
 We'll melt into the bedroom floor
 Never knew I'd stay for so long

And this truth cuts not through one, but both
 Not through one, but both of us

But it's deeper if I hold on

And it's killing me, me to say "I'm fine," "I'm fine"
 When I really mean, mean to say

You're my all and more
 All I know you taught me, yeah
 You're my all and more
 But I need room to breathe, yeah

Ooooooooooh, ooooooooooh, ooooooooooh
 Gotta breathe for me, it's now or never
 Gotta breathe for me, it's now or never
 Ooooooooooh, ooooooooooh
 I should leave, 'cause you deserve better, better

Gave my all and more
 But I need room to be me
 You're my all and more
 All I know you taught me, yeah
 You're my all and more
 But I need room to breathe, yeah

Ooooooooooh, ooooooooooh, ooooooooooh
 Breathe
 Ooooooooooh, ooooooooooh, ooooooooooh
 Breathe
