

Led Zeppelin - No Quarter

Tom: E

Here are the two chords played before the chorus:
both are strummed out sort of slowly

And the chorus part has some heavy fuzz on the guitar:
(The last bend is for the end of the chorus)

The solo has two guitars on it, one clean, and one with fuzz.
Just listen to the song to try to match up parts.
Here is the clean guitar solo:

Here's the solo parts for the fuzzed guitar.

Whoever posted No Quarter the other day, thanks. I went home and tried it (listened to the tape at the same time) and found that it sounded better one half step higher, though. Maybe my guitar is tuned off by a fret..
