                     F
Intro:  F   C

F
Flying high, running low, take a chance, don't let it go
C
I shoulda known it gets hard baby, now I feel like I'm going crazy
F
What a mess, what a night, nothing seems to work alright
Sometimes we all lose track, take a breath don't look back
   Dm          E7        F        Fm
No nothing can hurt me when I'm by your side

              F
We gon' be alright, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)
We gon' be alright, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)
                   F
Everything is fine, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)
We gon' be alright, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)

C
Shit, I just turned twenty-five
F
Still don't know, what I'm doing with my life
C
My friend have it all figured out, and I'm like what's this all about
F
I thank God everyday, that I found you on my way
Let's run away don't look back
                   Dm          Em          F
As long as we stay together it's fine, diving into the night

We gon' be alright, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)
              C                          C
We gon' be alright, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)
```
                   F
Everything is fine, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)
              C                          C
We gon' be alright, (we gon' be alright, we gon' be alright)

Fm                          Eb        Ab      Am
   And when you feel like everything's too much, yeah
                        Fm
Just close your eyes and fly so high
                       G7        C
and know that I'll be looking up
                           Fm
If you ever feel like crying sing
                            Am
don't you worry about a thing, no no
           Fm                              Fm
Bb
So just sit back, enjoy the ride, I'll be right there by your side
F                      G
And everything's gon' be alright

     F                      A    C
Be alright, we gon' be alright, yeah
