

Lindsey Stirling - Something Wild

Tom: Bb
                                                                Even though you're scared
Intro: Bb
                                                                You're stronger than you know
             Bb
You had your maps drawn
                                                                If you're lost out where the lights are blinding
You had other plans to hang your hopes on
                                                                Caught in all, the stars are hiding
Every road they lead you down felt so wrong
                                                                That's when something wild calls you home, home
So you found another way
                                                                If you face the fear that keeps you frozen
You've got a big heart
                                                                Chase the sky into the ocean
The way you see the world, it got you this far
                                                                That's when something wild calls you home, home
You might have some bruises and a few scars
                                                                Fb Bb F Gm
But you know you're gonna be okay
                                                                Eb Bb F Gm
                                                                Bb
Even though you're scared
                                                                Calls you home
You're stronger than you know
                                                                Calls you home
If you're lost out where the lights are blinding
                                                                Calls you home
                                                                          Bh
Caught in all, the stars are hiding
                                                                Calls you home
That's when something wild calls you home, home
                                                                If you're lost out where the lights are blinding
If you face the fear that keeps you frozen
                                                                Caught in all, the stars are hiding
Chase the sky into the ocean
                                                                That's when something wild calls you home, home
That's when something wild calls you home, home
                                                                If you're lost out where the lights are blinding
( Eb Bb F Gm ) (2x)
                                                                Caught in all, the stars are hiding
Sometimes the past can
                                                                That's when something wild calls you home, home
Make the ground beneath you feel like a quicksand
                                                                If you face the fear that keeps you frozen
You don't have to worry, reach for my hand
                                                                Chase the sky into the ocean
And I know you're gonna be okay, you're gonna be okay
                                                                That's when something wild calls you home, home
                                                                Final: Eb Bb F Gm
