```
        Em          G       Em        G
I got a long way to go and a long memory
        Em          G           Em          G
I been searching for an answer, always just out of reach
Em        G      Em        G
Blood on the floor, sirens repeat
      Em           G        Em         G
I been searching for the courage to face my enemies

          Am            D
When they turn down the lights

            Em      C        G              D
I hear my battle symphony, all the world in front of me
       Em       C        G        D
If my armor breaks, I'll fuse it back together
Em      C       G                       D
Battle symphony, please just don't give up on me
          Em        C      G
And my eyes are wide awake
          Em        C      G  D
For my battle symphony
          Em        C      G  D
For my battle symphony
           Em          G         Em           G
They say that I don't belong, say that I should retreat
         Em            G        Em        G
That I'm marching to the rhythm of a lonesome defeat
          Em           G          Em         G
But the sound of your voice puts the pain in the reverse
          Em         G          Em         G
No surrender, no illusions, and for better or worse
```

```
          Am            D
When they turn down the lights
            Em      C        G              D
I hear my battle symphony, all the world in front of me
       Em       C        G        D
If my armor breaks, I'll fuse it back together
Em      C       G                       D
Battle symphony, please just don't give up on me
          Em        C      G  D
And my eyes are wide awake

         C              Am
If I fall, get knocked down
         G              D
Pick myself up off the ground
         C              Am
If I fall, get knocked down
         G              D
Pick myself up off the ground

          Am            D
When they turn down the lights

            Em      C        G              D
I hear my battle symphony, all the world in front of me
       Em       C        G        D
If my armor breaks, I'll fuse it back together
Em      C       G                       D
Battle symphony, please just don't give up on me
          Em        C      G
And my eyes are wide awake
          Em        C      G  D
For my battle symphony
          Em        C      G  D
For my battle symphony

( Em  C  G  D )
