[Primeira Parte]

And we'll never ever put it back together
I should've known better, you're lying

Maybe I made it more complicated than it had to be Maybe I'm mistaken, but it's taking something out of me
Maybe I'm too patient 'cause I waited until now to see
Take what you say and I'll ruminate away reality

I was waiting patiently, saving judgment for too long
When the hesitation would set the stage that I'd lose on
You were only aiming to pass the blame and then move on
You just turned the tables and made my right to a new wrong
