

Lorde - Buzzcut Season

```
Tom: Ab
                                                                Where everything is good
 (com acordes na forma de
                                             G )
                                                                And I'll never go home again (Place the call, feel it start)
Capostraste na 1º casa
Intro: Em G
                                                                Favourite friend (And nothing's wrong when nothing's true)
                                                                I live in a hologram with you
I remember when your head caught flame
                                                                We're all the things that we do for fun (And I'll breathe and It kissed your scalp and caressed your brain (I remember when it goes)
your head
                                                                Play along (Make believe, it's hyper real) caught flame)
                                                                But I live in a hologram with you
Well you laughed, baby it's okay
It's buzzcut season anyway (Well you laughed, baby it's okay)
                                                                Cola with the burnt-out taste
                                                                I'm the one you tell your fears to
Explosions on TV
                                                                There'll never be enough of us
                       Em
And all the girls with heads inside a dream
                                                                  C
So now we live beside the pool
                                                                Explosions on TV
Where everything is good
                                                                And all the girls with heads inside a dream
                                           Em
                                                                So now we live beside the pool
We ride the bus with the knees pulled in
                                                                Where everything is good People should see how we're living (We ride the bus with the knees pulled in)
                                                                And I'll never go home again (Place the call, feel it start)
Shut my eyes to the song that plays
                                                                Favourite friend (And nothing's wrong when nothing's true)
Sometimes this has a hot, sweet taste (Shut my eyes to the
                                                                I live in a hologram with you song that plays) We're all the things that we do for fun (And I'll breathe and
                                                                it goes)
The men up on the news
                                                                Play along (Make believe, it's hyper real)
They try to tell us all that we will lose
                                                                But I live in a hologram with you
But it's so easy in this blue
                                                                (Em G)
```

Acordes

