

Luke Combs - Tattoo On a Sunburn

tom:

Intro: G Am C G

[Primeira Parte]

It was the summer after my senior year
 We spent the whole week out on that pier
 She said boy I think I love you, I said I love you too
 We ended up drunk at some old ink shop
 She said get my name, I said hell why not
 She didn't have to work too hard to talk me into

[Pré-Refrão]

Mmmm a tattoo on a sunburn

[Refrão]

Everytime that saltwater breeze blows in
 I find myself laying right there in
 A kicked back, jet black leather seat
 The hum and the buzz and the sting of that needle
 Faded away but I guess some people never do
 Losing you is the only thing worse
 Than a tattoo on a sunburn

(G Am)

[Segunda Parte]

As I held her on her hotel balcony
 I remember wishin' she would come back with me
 I guess a boy can dream but we both knew it wouldn't work
 When I came to she was already gone
 Hammer down due west to Arkansas
 I laughed through the pain and swore it didn't hurt

[Pré-Refrão]

Acordes

Mmmm a tattoo on a sunburn

[Refrão]

Everytime that saltwater breeze blows in
 I find myself laying right there in
 A kicked back, jet black leather seat
 The hum and the buzz and the sting of that needle
 Faded away but I guess some people never do
 Losing you is the only thing worse
 Than a tattoo on a sunburn
 (G Am C G)

[Terceira Parte]

It's covered up with some new ink now
 The rest of the world ain't got a clue about
 The name of a girl that I ain't seen since that day
 I don't think about her all the time
 When their stacking the chairs right before the tide
 I can still hear her voice come crashing down with the waves

[Refrão]

Everytime that saltwater breeze blows in
 I find myself laying right there in
 A kicked back, jet black leather seat
 The hum and the buzz and the sting of that needle
 Faded away but I guess some people never do
 Losing you is the only thing worse
 Than a tattoo on a sunburn

[Final]

(G Am)

(Am) (C)
 A tattoo on a sunburn

(C G)