Intro: F7M Am7 Dm7
                                                                I make this planet feel like home
        F7M Am7 Dm7
                                                                 Am7
                                                                Miss us, first time the door is closing
F7M Am7
                                  Dm7
     Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
                                                                So far beyond all our control
                                                                 Am<sub>7</sub>
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                You say this all so close to broken, yeah
                                                                It's so much better when you wait
Yeah, things like this ain't built to last
                                                                 Am<sub>7</sub>
                                                                Forever and a day, that's all I got
I might just fade like those before me
                                                                Put it together then it break
When will you forget my past?
                                                                                                      Dm7
                                                                Am7
                                                                All the energy it takes, it never stop
Got questions, ask, you know the stories
                                                                 [Refrão]
Yeah, and you need to let me know
                                                                F7M
                                                                       Am7
                                                                                Dm7
                                                                Do I, do I, do I love?
When you're leaving where you go
                                                                F7M Am7
Dm7
Can I come?
                                                                 Can I, can I, can I get enough?
F7M
                                                                 [Quarta Parte]
Do you believe me, are you close?
   Am7
Yeah, even if you don't
                                                                Yeah, I never slip, I never fall
That'll get you sprung
                                                                I tried to tell you 'bout a better life
[Refrão]
                                                                And get involved, big or small
F7M
         Am7
                 Dm7
                                                                      Dm7
Do I, do I, do I love?
                                                                 It's been my fault
       Am7
                     Dm7
Can I, can I can I get enough?
                                                                I keep it safe, it's in the vault
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                Blindfold her, keep it going 'til we hit a wall
Yeah, don't run away, love
                                                                Yeah, I'm never going through the motions
                                  Am7
                                                                 Am7
Hey love, heartbreak will have you bankrupt
                                                                I'm just tryna lay your body down slowly
Too many days in a daze, better wake up
                                                                We can only go up
I put your face in a place where the space was
                                                                We can only go up
Nobody make you feel like you but (do I?)
                                                                 [Refrão]
And you don't know what you should do
                                                                       Em7
                                                                                   Dm7
                                                                Do I, do I, do I love?
Am7
Dm7
                                                                       Em7
You just looking for someone to make you move, ooh tell me (do Can I, can I, can I get enough?
