Tom: G

Verse 1

```
                         Em C              G    D
Your heart is not open so I must go
                         Em      C              G    D
The spell has been broken...I loved you so
Em                              C
Freedom comes when you learn to let go
G                               D
Creation comes when you learn to say no
C         D

                  Em   C                   G    D
You were my lesson I had to learn
                  Em     C              G    D
I was your fortress you had to burn
Em                                   C
Pain is a warning that something's wrong
G                                D
I pray to God that it won't be long
C             D
I wanna go higher
