

Marlon Funaki - Under Fire

tom:
D

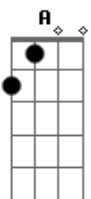

Walk in the dark, cold, the glistening moonlight
 I couldn't hold on to the dealings I would deal
 Holding back, say? "Everything's alright"
 Darling these feelings are overkill
 Honey? i'm left in the darkness again
 And I divide into another man
 Honey I'm left in the darkness again
 You don't die, you don't die, you don't die
 Feeling the cold sweats they're running down my back
 Eating the night away just like a midnight snack

And I don't feel my skin no more
 And you don't feel mine
 Honey I'm left in the darkness again
 And there is a cold wet, it's running down my chest
 Honey the emotions too dividend to kill
 You don't die, you don't die, you don't die
 Honey I'm left in the darkness again
 And there is a cold wet, it's running down my chest
 Honey the emotions too dividend to kill
 You don't die, you don't die, you don't die
 Honey I'm left in the darkness again
 And there is a cold wet, it's running down my chest
 Honey the emotions too dividend to kill
 You don't die, you don't die, you don't die
