                                                               I wonder if it even makes a difference,

I wake up with blood-shot eyes
                                                               And you told me how you're feeling
Struggled to memorize
The way it felt between your thighs
                                                               But I don't believe it's true

                                                               So this is goodbye
Not worth the aftermath

God damn, my spinning head
Decisions that made my bed
                                                               Give me something to believe in
Now I must lay in it
                                                               Cause I don't believe in you

I want to dive into you
                                                               It even makes a difference to try (yeah)
Forget what you're going through
I get behind, make your move
                                                               And you told me how you're feeling

Forget about the truth
                                                               But I don't believe it's true

I still don't have the reason
                                                               I wonder if it even makes a difference to cry (Oh no)
And you don't have the time
                                                               So this is goodbye
