

Michael Jackson - All In Your Name

```
Tom: D
                                                             And it looks like we fall
                                                             And it burns like a flame
 (Barry)
                                                                   D
Now I got a mission
                                                             Any ground that I claim
The story unfolds
                                                             So what is my life
What the wise men have told you, is already known
                                                             If I don't believe
That a woman and a man
  Bm E
                                                             There is someone to watch me
Should go by the plan
                                                             Follow my dreams
And we find out how high we can fly
                                                             Take all my chances, like those who dare
There's just one religion
                                                             And where is the peace
One family of love
                                                             We're searching for
We suffer the children
                                                                 Bm E7
                                                             Under the shadows of war
As God cries above
                                                             Can we hold out, and stand up, and say no
And the giving, not the taking
                                                             [Michael]
With hearts open wide
                                                             Only God knows
                                                                    Bb
                                                             That it's all in the game

It's all in your name
And it looks like we fall
D G
And it burns like a flame
Any ground that I claim
                                                             Follow me to the gates of paradise
                                                             They're the same
So what is my life
                                                             It's all in your name
If I don't believe
     G
There is someone to watch me
                                                             Can we wait and I'll be there
Follow my dreams
                                                             Loving you and understand you
Take all my chances, like those who dare
                                                             Need your life now and understand
And what of our world
                                                             They'll all know
          Gb7
What does it become

                                                             (Michael)
When the damage is done
                                                             It's closer
And you held out, you said no, you stand up
                                                             (Barry)
[Michael]
                                                             Then we'll all know
Only God knows
 Bb
That it's all in the game
                                                             (Michael)
      Bb D
It's all in your name
                                                             It's closer
Carry me to the gates of paradise
                                                             See, that it's God
         A7
They're the same
                                                             (Barry)
It's all in your name
                                                             And show me
[Barry]
                                                             (Michael)
Look to Heaven
                                                             It's all in the game
An angel of peace
                                                             It's all in your name
To love and protect us
                                                             Follow me to the gates of paradise
  Gm
Through all of our tears D D
                                                                B7
                                                             And say...
And the gateway to peace
It stands open wide
                                                             It's all in the game
