

Mike Pinto - Ill Let You In

```
Tom: A (Gbm )
   From the album "Little District"
                                                                                                     [Chorus]
                                                                                 (D)
Key of A major (Dbm )
Intro: (A) (E) (Gbm Bridae: Dbm
                 (D)
                                                                We don't know what we could find, we could end up hopeless as shoes hanging from telephone lines, you're the Verse:
                                                                last thought in my head before I close my eyes, you still worry that my sun it Meet me on the roof top, you know we don't have to say how we would never rise
feel I grab
                                                                Gbm
                                                                I see the sun in your smile, you know how it shines, I hope your ear with a song that shows my heart was one day beating,
                                                                A (I'm not really sure on this chord, but it's in key)
a song that shows exactly how I'm feeling...
                                                                I could make you mine
                                                                My oh my, baby can't you see? You and I could some how be Pre-chorus:
                                        D slide to E
...Waitin' for love good enough for the taking everything you ever dreamed....
Chorus:
                                                                                                Gbm D
                                                                ...Don't you hide your feelings
And I'll let you in, do do do
        Gbm
                                                                Chorus, repeat until fade.
I'll let you in, do do do Sorry I couldn't do the solo or the layered guitars, but if you're playing this solo,
I'll let you in, do do do
       Gbm
                 D
                                                                sound just fine.
I'll let you in, do do do
                                                                Peace
Solo Rhythm>Bridge:
                                                                ~1.T.
                                              (E) jharechmak at scu dot edu
```

Acordes

