

Mike Shinoda - Over Again

Tom: G What (are) they saying, I'm not raw? What the fuck you take me for? Sometimes, sometimes you don't say goodbye once All the sudden you hear what I've said a hundred ways before? You say goodbye over and over and over again I been pushed, I been trapped Over and over and over again Drug myself through hell and back and Sometimes, sometimes you don't say goodbye once Fallen flat and had the balls to start it all again from scratch You say goodbye over and over again Fm How do you feel, how you doing, how'd the show go? Over and over again Am I insane to say the truth is that I don't know My body aches head's spinning this is all wrong It was a month since he passed, maybe less I almost lost it in middle of a couple songs And no one knew what to do, we were such a mess We were texting, we were calling, we were checking in And everybody that I talk to is like, wow We said we ought to play a show in honor of our friend Must be really hard to figure what to do now Well now that show's finally here, it's tonight Well thank you genius, you think it'll be a challenge Supposed to go to the bowl, get on stage, dim the lights Only my life's work hanging in the fucking balance With our friends and our family, in his name, celebrate And all I wanted was to get a little bit of closure There's no way that I'll be ready to get back up on that stage And every step I took I looked and wasn't any closer Can't remember if I've cancelled any show 'Cause sometimes when you say goodbye, yeah you say it But I think about what I'm supposed to do and I don't know Fm Over and over and over and over Cause I think about not doing it the same way as before G And it makes me wanna puke my fucking guts out on the floor Sometimes, sometimes you don't say goodbye once Em We rehearsed it for a month, I'm not worried about the set You say goodbye over and over and over again I get tackled by the grief at times that I would least expect Over and over and over again I know what I should be doing when I'm singing but instead Sometimes, sometimes you don't say goodbye once We'll be playing through a song and I'd remember in my head You say goodbye over and over and over again Over and over and over again Sometimes, sometimes you don't say goodbye once You say goodbye over and over and over again Over and over again Over and over again Over and over and over again Sometimes, sometimes you don't say goodbye once Over and over again You say goodbye over and over again Over and over and over again Over and over again (Over and over again) A Fm Bm (Over and over again) Acordes
