

Mineral - Gloria

tom:

```
Bm G Bm G Bm G
              Bm
       [Intro - Guitarra 1] B Db D G D
                                                            Hey sorrow, where are you?
                                                                                    Bm G
                  B Gb E G D
                                                          Bm G Bm
                                                           Tomorrow just won't be the same without you here
                                                         Bm A D G
I'll wish for shoulders bold and broad to bear
[Intro - Guitarra 2] D E F Db
                  D Db A
D Db D
                                                          Bm A
                                                                            D G
                                                          And strength to hold my head above them
[Primeira Parte]
                                                          [Refrão]
Bm G
A brave morning
                                                          'Cause I just want to be
    Thoughts flap their wings and fly
                                                                              Bm
                                                          Something more than the mud in your eyes
       Bm G
   And I can still taste
                                                                               Bm A G
                                                          I want to be the clay in your hands
       Bm G
   Defeat on my lips
Bm A D G
Bright tie, fish fly, I have not yet arrived
                                                          [Final]
                                                          (Bm G D G)
              D
                          G
How can I not admit, I need to know you
                                                          (Bm G D G)
[Refrão]
                                                                               Bm G D G
                                                          'Cause Gloria is silent, Gloria is silent
                                                          Bm G D G
                                                                              Bm G D G
                                                          Gloria is silent and glory is a silent thing
'Cause I just want to be
                   Bm
Something more than the mud in your eyes
                                                          [Final] Bm G
G A Bm A G
I want to be the clay in your hands
                                                                 Bm G
                                                                 Bm G
                                                                 Bm G
```

Acordes

[Segunda Parte]