Dm

I'm ashamed by the lies and the worthless games

But the wine and the night make me feel okay

No other you, no other me, no other us, babe

One of a kind, and I won't let it slip away

I can see you in my head, I can see you in my bed

I can see you doing all the things we used to do instead

Of the fights at 2 AM when I knew I was your man

The only thing I'm thinking about

I really got to hold on

Come back home, we can fight, I can take the blame

And I bet make up sex makes us feel okay

Give it back, give me love, don't you run away

Got a list, a couple of things, that will make you stay
