

Mother Mother - Stay Behind

Life is just begging to include you
                                                         D Bm
              tom:
                                                                              G
                                                         But sometimes you just got to stay behind
              D
                       Dh
I don't wanna write a masterpiece
                                                         [Ponte]
     G D
I don't want the world at my feet
                                                         Bb

                                                         Yeah, you do
I just wanna leave all my dreaming to dreaming
                                                         Yeah, you do
I don't wanna have to run, run, run
                                                         Yeah, you do, yeah
  G D
I just wanna fa-la-la
                                                                                Bm
                                                         I just kick it with your head in the clouds
And sing it like the drumbeat is played back
                                                         And stick it to the guys downtown
And sleeping
                                                         And just play another
[Primeira Parte]

Time, it doesn't stop to ask you
                                                         [Terceira Parte]
Why you choose to stay behind
                                                         Time, it doesn't stop to ask you

Everybody wanna save the human race
                                                         Bh
                                                         Yeah, you do
But do I really gotta scrape the night away
                                                         Yeah, you do
             Bb
Just put me on a jet plane and
                                                         Bb
                                                         Yeah, you do, yeah
            Bb
Send me off to outer space
