                                                              [Interlúdio]
Capostraste na 3ª casa
                                                              A A7 D A A7 D A
Intro: A A7 D A A7 D A
And one, two, three
                                                              [Terceira Parte]
[Primeira Parte]
                                                              You cannot complain if you don't throw a dice yourself
When I look into your eyes, I feel further every time
                                                              Sit outside the lines, blame everybody else
But I see the roots that take and put a shiver down my spine
                                                                                      D
A A7 I came here askin' nothin', but I'm leavin' with a list
                                                              I refuse to offer myself up to men who lie
                                                              Spit and sell and smirk, out the corner of their eye
I was born to believe, the truth is all there is [Refrão]
[Interlúdio]
A A7 D A
                                                                If there's a fir? in the almost places
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                Leaves us nowhere else to go
                                                              Don't leave the liars in the honest places
The pressure of the eyes could tie my tongue and leave me cut [Instrumental]
If the mirror shows me weakness, I get wild with catching up
                                                              A A7 G F A A Am F
You won't find me runnin' off my mouth like my old friends
                                                              [Refrão]
I was born in California, and it nev?r ends
[Interlúdio]
                                                                Don't leave a fire in the almost places
A A7 D A
                                                                Leaves us nowhere else to go
[Refrão]
                                                              'Cause there's a fire in the almost places
                                                                Leaves us nowhere else to go
 If there's a fir? in the almost places
                                                                Don't leave the liars in the honest places
 Leaves us nowhere else to go
                                                              [Final] A A7 D A A7 D A
