       B7 Em7
                                                                Our veranda will command a view of meadows green
                                                                   Fdim Gb7 Bm7 Fdim E7 A7
Someday,
              we'll build a home on a hilltop high, you and The sort of view that seems to want to be seen
                                                                A7 Em7 A7 G A7/13- D B7 G
                             A7/13- D B7 G
                                                                And when the kids grow up and leave us
          B7 Em7
                                                                          G Edim A7 D B7 Em7
Shiny and new, a cottage that two can fill
                                                                We'll sit and look at that same old view, just we two D B7 Em7 G A7/13- D B7 G Baby and Joe, who used to be Jack and Jill
           Gdim D B7 G
And we'll be pleased to be called
            A7 Em7 A7 D B7 G A7
                                                                             Gdim D B7 G
The folks who live on the hill
D B7 Em7 G Edim A7 D B7 Em7 Edim
Someday, we may add a wing or two, a thing or two
D B7 Em7 A7/13- D B7 G

We will make changes, as any family will
Gdim D B7 G

Rut we will always be called
                                                                The folks who like to be called
                                                                            A7 Gb7
                                                                What they have always been called
                                                                 B7/13- Em7 Edim A7 D
                                                                The folks who live on the hill
But we will always be called
