Neil Young - Cortez The Killer

He came dancing across the water D with his galleons and guns, Am7

lookin' for the new world and the palace in the sun.

On the shore lay Montezuma with his coca leaves and pearls; in it's house he often wandered with the secrets of the worlds.

And his subjects gathered round him, like a leaves around the tree, in their clothes of many colors for the angry gods to see.

And the women all were beautiful and the men stood straight and strong; they offered life in sacrifice so that others could go on.

Hate was just a legend and war was never known; people worked together and they lifted many stones.

And they carried them to the flatlands, but they died along the way, and they built up with their bare hands what we still can't do today.

And I know she's living there, and she loves me to this day; I still can't remember when or how I lost my way.

He came dancing across the water, Cortez, Cortez. What a killer.
