                                                                Like I'm fixed, fixed, fixed

Intro: Em G
        Bm D G G
                                                                You can walk away but I could never let go
 I?m a shipwreck waiting for you
                                                                Don't know how you did it but I'm sat at the stone
 You?re the rock that stopped me going
                                                                Like I'm fixed, fixed, fixed
 Anywhere, anywhere
                                                                You got me fixed on you
Going anywhere, anywhere
                                                                Stuck, standing on a cliff
 You?re the storm that took me under
                                                                It's the way you get your kicks
 Before I knew it was you
                                                                Ain't the way I wanna live
I was already going down, going down
                                                                But that's the way you got me fixed
I was going down, going down
                                                                 Stuck, standing on a cliff
Anytime that you leave
                                                                It's the way you get your kicks
I find it hard just to breath
                                                                Ain't the way I wanna live
Come apart in every way
                                                                But that's the way you got me fixed
And never put me back again
                                                                 Stuck, standing on a cliff
Everytime you go I come a little undone
                                                                It's the way you get your kicks
Even when it hurts I'm holding onto your love
                                                                Ain't the way I wanna live
Like I'm fixed, fixed, fixed
                                                                But that's the way you got me fixed
You got me fixed on you
                                                                Stuck, standing on a cliff
You can walk away but I could never let go
Don't know how you did it but I'm sat at the stone
                                                                It's the way you get your kicks
                                                                Ain't the way I wanna live
Like I'm fixed, fixed, fixed
You got me fixed on you
                                                                But that's the way you got me fixed
I'll be here if you ever come calling
                                                                Stuck, standing on a cliff
 By the ocean I'm a ghost of everything, everything
                                                                It's the way you get your kicks
 That we ever did, ever did
                                                                Ain't the way I wanna live
 You got me cought, got me hooked, got me fixed up
                                                                But that's the way you got me fixed
You got me chained, but I wouldn't wanna change for anything,
                                                                Everytime you go I come a little undone
anything
Not for anything, anything
                                                                Even when it hurts I'm holding onto your love
                                                                Like I'm fixed, fixed, fixed
Anytime that you leave
                                                                You got me fixed on you
I find it hard just to breath
                                                                You can walk away but I could never let go
Come apart in every way
                                                                Don't know how you did it but I'm sat at the stone
And never put me back again
                                                                Like I'm fixed, fixed, fixed
                                                                You got me fixed on you
Everytime you go I come a little undone
                                                                [Final] G D A
